Thanks Nancy. All, this was back a few weeks. As Patti says in her email, the Sustainability Coordinator was advised to work through AC and she has had no further contacts that I'm aware of.

Thought the group should be aware of this – thanks ng

Nancy,

Region 8's Sustainability Coordinator participated in a call yesterday with the LaPlata Economic Development Alliance (<http://yeslpc.com/our-staff/>) yesterday afternoon (Roger Zalneraitis (Executive Director). Questions posed during the call included: whether EPA with EDA could jointly fund an economic coordinator; current updates on economic and tribal impacts; what are the short and longer-term impacts on crops and livestock and whether EPA could provide technical resources with respect to resiliency? In addition, EDA mentioned that Ft. Lewis College is building a robotic sampling device and the City of Durango librarian offered to host a website for GKM-related material.

I have shared that any further interactions with EDA should come out of Unified Command and will send Roger your contact information. We can share our technical resources on resiliency and the recovery material we have from the Colorado flood event.

Here's my stab at a standing agenda. We can tweak it. It relies on each of us raising issues we're working on for decision, discussion, or information only.
